

Message from Sister Mūmbi

I've received calls, texts, emails over the past couple of weeks checking in as news of the conflict in Sudan filters out. Even though I have reassured everyone of the Solidarity with South Sudan larger family's safety at the moment, since we are located in a different country, the history of Sudan and South Sudan are deeply intertwined and so is their continued well-being... Our Solidarity members remain committed to being a symbol and presence of hope, as they accompany our South Sudanese sisters and brothers and support them in building individual and communal capacity through our various programs.

Read message

Photo: The members who make up Solidarity with South Sudan are supported by committed South Sudanese nationals who work alongside them in all our projects. Pictured here with me are Emmanuel, Samuel and Lawrence, who support our pastoral and trauma healing teams based at the Good Shepherd Peace Center in Kit.